Revaluation Figures To Be Ready Prior To Town Meeting In March

$50,000 Cut Requested - - -

School Board Reconsiders Budget

The Arlington School Committee will reconsider several items in the School Budget at the monthly meeting Tuesday.

The sub-committee on schools of the Arlington Finance Committee asked the School Committee at a budget meeting held Tuesday night to reconsider cutting nearly $50,000 more from the School Budget.

Much of the discussion Tuesday night centered around a reconsideration to postpone a $19,120 request for renovations to the Arlington High school cafeteria. This amount would be used for tiling, $6,100; and new furniture, $13,020.

This item has been in the budget each time since 1963, and previously in 1958-1959 and 1960.

The Committee was also requested to reconsider the following budget items:

Black topping at the Crosby school, $6,500.

Remodeling of Sanitarium in Building B at the High school, $1,500.

Enlarging the teachers' dining room at the High school, $1,500.

Folding doors at the Junior High East cafeteria so that the area could be used for instructional purposes when not otherwise in use, $4,000.

New gym floor at the Junior High East—the old floor

Discuss Route 2 Alternate Plans

Arlington officials and officials of Somerville and Cambridge met with the State Dept. of Public Works, and other state authorities at a preliminary briefing Friday on three alternate plans in connection with the extension of Rt. 2 from Lake st. to the traffic circle in Cambridge.

Chairman of the Board of Selectmen John Biferle told this paper that the local Board will be called on by the State Dept. of Public Works to determine which of the three plans it favors.

The two larger parcels of land adjacent to the present Rt. 2 location which might be affected by the relocation include one sector owned by Star Market, and the Thorndike st. playground.

According to Biferle, plans indicate that two or three houses might be taken in the Magnolia and Thorndike st. section.

The Chairman of the Board also indicated that these preliminary plans are not necessarily binding.

risers in damp weather—$5,200.

New wood shaper at the wood working shop at Arlington High, $375.

Electric Furnace at the Vocational school, $1,980.

Replacement of shaper at the Vocational school, $2,600.

Replacement of IBM Selectric typewriters ($2,400) asked to reconsider half.

Twenty circuit analysis kits at the Electric Shop, $11,000—asked to reconsider half.

A request for 30-deck chair units at the Bishop school, $1,140. The School Committee was asked to wait until after inventory.

The sub-committee also requested that the schools reduce the budget by $115,000 with anticipated receipts received under Public Law 874.

The Committee felt that only $100,000 could be made available at this point.

Paying Close Attention - - -

Busing next year and additional building space were topics holding the interest of the audience of Parmenter school parents at a meeting held last week.

Complete Preliminary Plans

The Junior High School Building Committee has completed preliminary plans for additions and renovations to the Junior High East and Junior High West, and will shortly announce plans for a new junior high school on Summer st.

Articles have been filed in the Town Warrant seeking the transfer of land on Summer st. to the School Committee, and funds for building specifications for the three schools. Sums of $50,000 for the East; $60,000 for the West and $250,000 for the new school will be sought.

To provide new and retrofit facilities, essential for new educational programs, similar plans have been designed for both schools. The most outstanding feature in each school will be the large library, serving as a study and resource center to promote and encourage individual study. Remedial reading rooms, plus enlarged administration and guidance suites are planned.

The number of science rooms have been increased and many of them will have laboratory facilities so that students may perform their own experiments. Interchangeable classrooms with movable partitions will allow for large group instruction and at the same time increase the number of regular size rooms. Art and music rooms will be added or improved. Both schools, for the first time, will have mechanical drawing rooms plus student activities rooms.

At the West, more space has been made available for the industrial arts shops. The cafeteria will be enlarged so that it can take care of the students in three eatings instead of four.

At the East, a more complete homemaker suite is planned.

The Town Meetings of 1968 charged the committee with

By April 1, 1969, Arlington residents will receive information indicating the new value of their property for 1968.

Town Manager Donald R. Marquis told members of the Board of Selectmen, Monday night that total revaluation figures will be available prior to Town Meeting.

The contract with the firm, according to Marquis, calls for work to be completed by April 1.

Marquis explained to the Board that he had recently attended a meeting with the firm handling the revaluation of the property in the Town of Arlington, and had been told that the figures would be ready by March 15, 1969, just before the start of Town Meeting.

The new tax, based on 1968 expenditures would then be computed.

These figures would have nothing to do with action taken at Town Meeting, budgets for 1969 or the Cherry

Sheet, Marquis emphasized in conversation with this paper later in the week.

The Manager went on to explain that there is enough information on the slip sent out to residents April 1, for them to compute any increase in taxes for 1969 over 1968 as the result of revaluation.

Residents wishing to appeal may make appointments by going to Town Hall and asking for a hearing.

Such hearings are expected to be held in April.

After the hearings, the revaluation firm will review the appeals and make any adjustments if it seems necessary.

All the information will go to the Board of Assessors with tax bills expected to be sent out by June.

Residents may still appeal to Assessors after that point as they have in the past, and if not satisfied then have recourse to court action.

Registration At Low Ebb

Registration of Voters in Arlington has been at a very low ebb, according to Town Clerk Mary Farrington.

Only nine persons registered at eight locations during special registration sessions between Jan. 20 and Jan. 29.

Four registered on Jan. 20, three registered Jan. 22, two registered Jan. 27 and no one registered Jan. 29. Two locations were open for residents to register on each of these dates.

Final day to register is Saturday, Feb. 8, from 12 noon until 10 p.m.

Nab Five After School Break

Alert work on the part of Arlington police officers led to the apprehension of five juveniles this past weekend after a break at the Arlington High school.

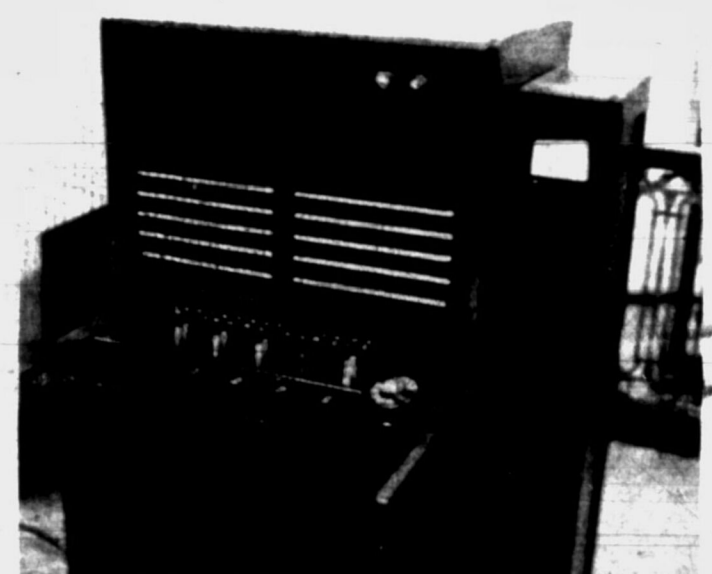

Town Manager Donald R. Marquis in discussing the matter with the Board of Selectmen Monday night stated that damage to the building was estimated at $3,000.

Arlington Police Chief Ferdinand Lucarelli told this paper that Police Sgt. John J. Buckley and Officer Eugene

Out With The Old - - -

A new switchboard has been installed in the Town Hall, replacing the old one pictured above. Picture above was taken Monday night in corridor adjacent to the Selectmen's office just before old equipment was removed. Original board was installed in 1953 in the basement of Town Hall and later moved to small room next to Selectmen's office.

A Terrible Thing

A story in this week's issue starts out, "Registration of Voters in Arlington has been at a very low ebb."

The story should start out with a line stating just the opposite.

Just imagine, if you will that during this, the year of the big tax, residents of a community, eligible to vote in their town election, fail to become registered voters of the community.

The taxes will come inevitably, one vote and one candidate in office will not make the least bit of difference is the common excuse for not registering to vote or not voting if registered.

"What difference will my vote make?"

"Who cares one way or the other?"

These are some of the common questions posed at election time as nearly half of the residents of a community fail to turn out at the polls year in and year out.

If nothing more, every resident of a community, every registered voter of a town or city should have enough interest in what is going on to turn out at the polls to vote for the person they feel is the best qualified or vote yes or no on the various referendum questions which would have an influence on their town government.

There is no excuse for not voting other than sickness or being an invalid.

The terrible showing of only nine residents registering to vote during eight night-time registrations sessions is disgraceful.

In the first place it is a waste of time and a waste of taxpayers money to have these special night time sessions, set up for the convenience of voters in the community who otherwise would not have the time to register.

When those who can hardly walk, those in their seventies and eighties can somehow make their way to the polls through all types of weather, regardless of how crippled up they might be, then certainly all of us can do our part—or don't we care?

To the Editor:

Residents in the Turkey Hill-Symmes Hospital area have advised me to encourage a proposal made Monday last at the Selectmen's Meeting by Selectman Joseph P. Greeley calling upon the MBTA to study the feasibility of providing bus service along Summer st. from the Centre to the Heights in view of the expected MDC Skating Rink and the proposed new school at Hill's Hill. With the efforts of the Conservation Commission to retain the natural resources of this beautiful area by keeping open the Capt. Cooke Mill site at the Flume and other parts of Mill Brook as a green belt augmented by gifts of private land at Mystic st. and Green's Hill, and the recent acquisition of the Mt. Bilboa Reservations, a bus line through the area would be a service welcomed by young or old and preserve the character of the whole Northwest part of Town. Our thanks to the Selectmen for their efforts and foresight.

COLLINS CORNER

Nixon Waterman the Poet who lived at Arlington Heights wrote a poem that said in part: "O, Arlington Heights: O, fond spot, where'er we roam, We call thee HOME SWEET HOME." And for many years thousands of citizens have fondly called that part of the Town as Home Sweet Home. And to those folks up there on the Hill the name and location of St. Anne's Episcopal Convent and School is well known, but to thousands of other Arlingtonians this wonderful institution has no meaning, or location. Well, it covers about four Acres of land bounded by Appleton st., Claremont, Wollaston and Hillsdale avenues.

Going back a bit, a Miss Etheldred Barry built a chapel of wood on Appleton st. where children of the neighborhood might worship, plus the care of babies who needed help, and that was the small beginning.

So time moved on and with Nuns arriving more property was needed and larger quarters to house the ever growing number of children who were enrolling in the little church in the Heights. For many years the pupils attended the Locke school and later Arlington High until the year 1928 when they had their own school, and today it is an accredited educational institution teaching girls from the age of seven years to graduates of high school.

Upon receiving their diplomas they may enter any higher school of learning they desire.

As of this writing there are 90 students, and 75 live in the houses on the grounds. They come from all over this Nation and many far away countries. In order to properly train and teach these girls there are 51 Nuns and Postulates living there, and it is amazing to a visitor to wander through these spacious and beautifully kept grounds. As each house was built or acquired they were given a name, and today they have the St. Joseph, St. Gabriel, St. Michael, St. Mary, St. Elizabeth, St. John and St. Anne's. Much of the work done over the years on this Convent and School was performed by the Nuns, who do much labor, and the physical appearance of the property bears out this fact.

Sister Ruth has been there for 47 years and was the first Principal of the School, and Sister Miriam is the Superior, and arrived in Arlington in 1921, and in their quiet manner have been a tremendous asset to the Town of Arlington and its citizens.

Perhaps the most beautiful building on the grounds is the St. Anne's Chapel which, by the way, was designed by Dr. Ralph Adams Cram one of the world's great architects, and the general architectural outline suggests a church of the 10th or 11th centuries.

Throughout the Chapel and other buildings are relics from all over the world, and an ancient bell from a Spanish Convent is hung at the entrance to the Sanctuary, and it is rung as a signal that a Service is about to begin, and all the residents of Arlington Heights have been listening to these chimes over the years announcing to one and all that Mass is about to be celebrated in the little Chapel on the Hill.

And in pleasant seasons one can hear the choir and organ singing and playing their religious hymns. The Priest assigned to the Convent is Rev. Thomas Kershaw, who is active in Town affairs, and with these dedicated ladies lend a real touch of peacefulness to our community as they perform their many works of charity.

The St. Anne's in Arlington Heights is the Mother House, and in addition to Convents in the United States they are also active in other countries, including the Philippines, and England.

That Man About Town

I know it—I know it.

Political time is near at hand and there should be some writings about the candidates and that there will be.

But Arlington is facing a crisis.

It may be solved by the time this paper goes to press, but the idea expressed will not be obsolete.

The crisis is the disposition of refuse material in or from the Town of Arlington.

Land is running out, but the trash to be disposed will continue on and on regardless.

There appears to be almost the definite possibility that Meadowbrook will be used to handle either all or part of this trash or "refuse" if you will, disposal in the very near future.

Evidently from the reports emanating from the meeting held at the room of the Board of Selectmen last week, it will happen soon.

But, whether it does or doesn't, whether all trash and rubbish and etc. is deposited there or whether just the larger items are dumped there and the rest trucked out to Somerville where the incinerator would take care of the burning of most of the trash picked up, MAT has a point which no one has mentioned to date.

There has been talk of the area looking unsightly.

There is talk of possible pollution as the result of any dumping in the area.

How about the offer of a suggestion.

This suggestion, unfortunately is not the "brainchild" of the author of this column, but it is worthwhile repeating.

—There was unhappiness with the knocking down of the Willows with the construction of Rt. 2.

MAT knows little about the structure of these trees and their growth, except from casual conversation.

But just suppose Willows were planted along the Parkway from near the Summer st. intersection to the bottom of the hill.

Not little "teenie weenie" trees, but fairly substantial ones.

These trees MAT understands are of the hardy type which really take root.

They certainly would add to the looks of the area, covering up the Meadowbrook section for much of the year.

Even if the section were to be used for sanitary fill, no one could see it from the roadway.

How much such trees would cost the town is not known here.

How much moisture they might eat up is also not known.

But if, just if, this area is to be used to hold bulky objects for any lengthy period of time—three years or more—it should look its best, at least.

To the Editor:

I would like to inform you readers that I am running for election as a Town Meeting Member from Precinct 6.

For some years I have been active with various town bodies and I would now like to bring the experience gained to the Town Meeting floor.

I am a member and treasurer of the Arlington Conservation Commission. We have just completed acquisition of something more than six acres of open space for the Town at very moderate cost to the taxpayer through full use of available federal and state aid programs which are contributing 75% of the cost.

During the school year 1965-66 I was president with my wife of the Parmenter School PTA and I currently serve as a member of the Parmenter School Building Committee. I have two children in the school system and another entering next year.

I serve as a member of a committee appointed by the Town Moderator to study and report to the Town Meeting on the advantages and disadvantages of the Town's continuing participation in the recreation and parks program of the Metropolitan District Commission.

Last summer I acted as moderator of the League of Women Voters warrant review meeting prior to the special Town Meeting.

I received my undergraduate education at Harvard College and an LLB from Harvard Law School. I practice law as a member of a 20-man firm in Boston.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

A PROMISING OUTLOOK FOR SILVER

Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., February 6.—Unlike most other metals, demand for silver is twofold: (1) for artistic and industrial uses; and (2) as a hedge against possible currency devaluation. At times silver prices will be influenced more by monetary conditions (and the price of gold) than by silver's industrial demand-supply status.

In recent months the price of silver has declined rather sharply. Nevertheless, it still remains well above the official "pegged" price which existed prior to mid-1967. Over the near term, the price of silver is expected to be dominated by international monetary developments. Looking further ahead, prices for the metal appear destined to reach new highs within the next few years.

SILVER IS AN INDUSTRIAL COMMODITY

The consumption of silver by industry and the arts (excluding coinage) throughout the world has increased dramatically in recent years—from approximately 187 million ounces in 1968 to 351 million in 1967. The rise in silver prices, however, has caused industrial consumers to seek substitutes.

Hence, Babson's Reports feels that some reduction in silver use is possible, and that U. S. consumption in the current year could show a modest decline from last year's estimated 145 million ounces. Nevertheless, because of silver's unique physical qualities, efforts at substitution have yet to make any significant headway. Furthermore, rising industrial use of silver in many areas of the world indicates that total demand will increase over coming years.

APPEAL AS A HEDGE COMMODITY

Silver's continued appeal as a hedge commodity throughout the Free World has been dramatically illustrated during the past 18 months. Although, statistically, there has been an ample supply of silver, its price has been greatly influenced by attitudes on world currencies and it has fluctuated widely.

During times of currency crisis, demand has surged; while periods of monetary tranquility have induced selling. In the coming months, international monetary conditions will dominate the course of silver's price. Barring a new currency crisis, the Babson staff expects the price to fluctuate in a relatively narrow range.

THE PRODUCTION-CONSUMPTION GAP

It is estimated that the world's mine production of silver was 213 million ounces in 1967, while total consumption (world-wide) equaled 430 million ounces. Thus, the year resulted in a production-consumption gap of 217 million ounces. In addition, it is estimated that 120 million ounces were added to private stocks, thus increasing the gap still further. The gap between mine production and consumption will continue for the foreseeable future, and increased mining activity will be needed to bolster supplies. Mine output, however, will show a marked rise only in the aftermath of higher silver prices.

OTHER SOURCES OF SUPPLY

Mining, of course, is not the only source of silver. Most important are sales by the U. S. Treasury and smuggled sales out of India. Other sources include: Demonetized silver coins, salvage, and sales by other governments. But such supplies will not last indefinitely and could prove short-lived.

Consequently, it appears that in a few years the deficit in silver production must be met by increased mine production, which can be induced only by higher silver prices. Furthermore, any official increase in the price of gold, as a solution to the world's monetary problems, will exert substantial upward pressure on the price of silver.

INVESTMENT IN SILVER

Silver stocks represent an attractive holding as a hedge against possible currency devaluation and as a long-term commitment based on anticipated future earning power. Currently, it is the opinion of the Babson's Reports staff that the common stocks of Hecla Mining Co. and Sunshine Mining Co. may be purchased for participation in the future of silver.

REAPPOINTED

The Board of Selectmen Monday night approved the reappointment by Town Manager Donald R. Marquis of Ira M. Jones, 21 Grafton st., as a Trust Fund Commissioner, for a three year term, expiring Oct. 1, 1971.

TO FILL TERM

Richard Keshian, 26 Lawrence lane, was named to the Zoning Board of Appeals by the Arlington Board of Selectmen, Monday night, to fill the unexpired term of Ralph Tuller. The term expires April 30, 1969.

New Licenses

Registry of Motor Vehicles officials today explained in simple terms how the new statute on photo licenses will operate.

Renewal Licenses

A form will be sent to each licensee by mail from the Registry of Motor Vehicles prior to the expiration date of present license. The fee will be noted on the renewal application form.

The form must be filled out with all questions answered and signed in ink by the applicant. It must then be taken in person by the licensee to a Registry office.

An examiner will inspect the application and if it is in order, he will conduct an eye test.

If the applicant passes the eye test, the examiner will process the form.

The applicant's photo will then be taken and will appear on the license which will be presented to him on the spot.

The whole renewal process will require about five minutes at the Registry counter.

NOTE: Licensees are advised not to make any alterations in the printed information on the face of the application they receive in the mail. They should report any needed changes to the Registry when they appear. However, changes of address should be noted on the reverse side and on the stub of the application.

Applicants who are not now restricted to wearing eyeglasses but who know that they do need them should wear them for the examination.

Checking Their Equipment - - -

Red Cross volunteer, Kenneth A. Cameron, 116 Jason st., was a front row spectator at the Jan. 20, inaugural parade of President Richard M. Nixon.

Cameron, along with three other volunteers, represented the Greater Boston Red Cross as members of a first aid team. Replete with new uniforms, new equipment and emergency vehicles, they made the 500 mile trek to the nation's capitol Sunday, Jan. 17.

They were among the 325 Red Cross volunteers who worked more than 6,000 hours and drove approximately 20,000 miles during inaugural events.

Cameron, who is principal of Stratton school in Arlington, dates his association with Red Cross back to 1934. He is Chairman of Red Cross Disaster Service in Arlington and Chairman of First Aid in Boston. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Greater Boston Red Cross.

During the inaugural parade, the Red Cross was responsible for equipping and completely staffing five medical first aid stations. Red Cross also supplied other first aid and nursing volunteers for first aid stations which were operated by the Medical Aid Committee.

At the request of the Veterans

Participation Committee, the Red Cross supplied attendants and transportation to and from the parade for 500 veterans from area military and federal hospitals, including Walter Reed, Bethesda Naval, U. S. Soldiers Home, Veterans Administration, and St. Elizabeths.

At Pershing Square, where Red Cross volunteers made it possible for hospital patients to view the parade, a Red Cross first aid and warming station provided hot beverages and snacks.

Academy To Close

Mother Agnes Sharry, Provincial Superior of the Religious of Christian Education who staff Marycliff Academy, Winchester, announced last week, that the Academy will close at the termination of this school year.

In her announcement to the parents and friends of the Winchester school, Mother

Sharry explained that the Sisters of Christian Education "face problems common to all religious orders today: personnel shortage and financial strain." To alleviate these problems the order has been engaged in a study of its schools with the assistance of educational, financial, and real estate consultants. The decision to close Marycliff is one of the results of this study.

Established in 1913, Marycliff's first campus was on Robbins rd. in Arlington. In 1946, because of increasing enrollment and an out-moded building, preparations began for the relocation of the school on a larger campus.

The Sanborn Estate on High st., Winchester, was purchased in that year and the construction of a modern classroom building was begun. The school was completely relocated at its present site by 1950.

During these years Marycliff has been under the direction of the following superiors: Mother Marie Aubert, Mother Rufina Fehrenbach, Mother Mary Cloonan, Mother Lucienne Jannin, Mother Dorothy McGuire, and currently, Mother Mary Bullock.

Ask Returns

March of Dimes volunteer leaders today urged all residents to make their contributions by returning the mailer, the envelope left by a Mothers' Marcher or by placing it in a coin container located in many places throughout the community.

John V. Harvey, Middlesex County registrar of probate and campaign director for the 1969 March of Dimes, thanked all those who have already contributed to aid the expansion of the vast research program of the voluntary health agency. He asked others, to do so as soon as possible.

As the 1969 campaign draws to an end, another example of the contribution The National Foundation-March of Dimes makes to the health of the nation is found in the announcement that the German measles vaccine will soon be licensed.

The voluntary agency played a major role in the development of this vaccine by providing the basic tools and discoveries without which it could not have been developed.

The disease has been found to be a significant cause of many birth defects in the child-to-be if it is contracted by the mother early in pregnancy.

Distribution of the vaccine is expected to start sometime during 1969.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

By JOHN A. WALKINSHAW

With the exception of the Bible, we think reading about Lincoln can buoy one's spirits, can give hope when hope is needed, more than any other way. Sadly, but wisely, when you read about Lincoln, you see the greatness in the man. You see how a great man is measured, unfortunately, after he has fallen, like you measure a tree after it is down, not while it stands.

Lincoln never claimed to be an orator, but his words put to shame the multisyllabled oratory of other statesmen. For example, read this—

"I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live up to what light I have. I must stand with anybody who stands right; stand with him while he is right and part with him when he goes wrong." A great thought! 54 words! And 52 of the 54 words are of one syllable!

Lincoln's birthday reminds us that small words with good deeds measure a great man. JOHN A. WALKINSHAW, SAVILLE, INC. FUNERAL SERVICE, 418 Mass. Avenue, Arlington, 643-1634.

Boys' Club Notes

On Saturday, Roy Sample, John DeSignore, Ron Dunn, Gary Parkinson, Ed Fahey and Jim Sears represented the Arlington Boys' Club in the Annual Northeast New England Area Arts and Crafts competition. The six boys' projects varied from a car made out of pop sticks to a lamp with a ceramic Kennedy half dollar as its base. John DeSignore's manger and plastic mold nativity set won third place in the oldest age grouping, while Ed Fahey's wooden shoe shine box followed close behind. All of the boys' projects were made at the Boys' Club.

Meanwhile the club's swim team journeyed to South Boston to take on the toughest opponent in this area. Arlington, with five victories to its name finally met their first defeat despite the efforts of Joe Reagan, Ron Palumbo, Chuck Dolan, Joe Barry, Russ Sample, Keith Faust, Rick Palumbo and the rest of the entire team. The boys, however, are anxiously awaiting the next swim meet with South Boston.

Muffin Girl of the Year

The Third Annual Pewter Pot Muffin House "Muffin Girl of the Year" competition will take place on Valentine's Day, Feb. 14, when representatives from the nearly twenty-five Muffin Pot operations will vie for the distinctive title.

Vincent J. Catania, President of Pewter Pot Management Corporation, announced that this year's contest and pageant will develop from its home state to one of a national nature, with girls from the company's new operations in Washington D.C., Maryland, and Virginia participating.

Before an audience of more than five hundred guests at the Sheraton-Boston Hotel, twenty three Muffin Girls (the official name of all girls who work in the rapidly expanding chain) will compete for the title.

The Muffin Girl of the Year Award brings with it prizes including an engraved pewter service, a ski weekend, and a charm course, as well as the honor of representing the more than eight hundred Muffin

Girls now employed in this unique operation.

Tom Russell, WEEL personality, will serve as Master of Ceremonies for the Pageant. Judges will include: Art Graham of the Boston Patriots; Richard Dolby, Hotel Service Inc., Mary Lawlor, Beauty Editor of the Boston Herald Traveler; Verndelle Kendall, Playboy Bunny Mother; Jack Borden, WBZ-TV Newscaster; Bobby Mitchell, WRKO Die Jockey, and last year's Muffin Girl of the Year, Frannie Tenaglia of Boston.

Your PHARMACIST SPEAKS

Harold R. Partamian, B.S., Registered Pharmacist

Not everyone knows how to read a thermometer properly. At the beginning, the thermometer should be shaken down until it reads below 95 degrees. Little children should have the temperature taken by rectum until they are old enough to take it by mouth. Remember, never take the temperature just after a person has had a hot or cold drink. Many thermometers are marked to register in one-half minute, others for one minute. Each time the thermometer is used, it should be washed with soap and water, dried and put back in a place so it can be reached easily enough when it is really needed.

John Bullock Asks New Sense Of Leadership

Selectman candidate John Bullock has called for a new sense of leadership and urgency in developing local solutions to the spiraling tax rate. Bullock's remarks were addressed to a meeting of his campaign workers.

"The central issue in this campaign is the vacuum of leadership which afflicts our town government," Bullock observed. "For all too many years, the Board of Selectmen has played a rather passive role. It has responded to proposals put before it. But it has sought to play an aggressive role in solving many town problems, including the tax problem."

"I intend," said Bullock, "to make our citizens aware of the fact that I stand for a new approach not only to the tax problem but to many other problems as well. We hear a lot about such ideas as 'involvement' and the concept of 'community.' In Arlington, we have over 200 different community organizations. It's time for the Board of Selectmen to exert some effort to bring these clubs and organizations together in a meaningful exchange of ideas and active participation in solving Arlington's problems."

Asked about his views on the taxpayers' revolt and the spiraling tax rate, Bullock offered a number of suggestions. He feels that the town must develop and exert greater influence at both the county and state level regarding projects which must be financed from local real estate taxes. If elected, he will offer a wide variety of recommendations so that Town Meeting Members will be more knowledgeable as to the detailed budgets of town departments.

Noting that educational needs are responsible for a large part of recent tax increases, Bullock went on to say: "Unlike the more progressive states, Massachusetts still places the greater portion of educational costs on the shoulders of the real estate taxpayer. This is not only unrealistic but raises financial havoc on retired persons or those living on fixed incomes. We must work toward the day when both the state and federal governments will more adequately support the costs of local education."

Mr. Bullock's campaign headquarters is located at 825 Mass. ave.

bringing in preliminary plans for additions and/or renovations to Junior High West and Junior High East, plus securing preliminary plans for a third junior high school.

Werner Carlson, chairman, stated that the committee, along with the architects and the school administration have met regularly since last spring. Despite the magnitude of the assignment, the committee will have all the plans ready for the Town Meeting in March. He also stated that the sites and educational specifications have already been tentatively approved by the State School-Building Assistance Commission.

Break —

DelGaizo were on patrol on Mill Brook dr. when they saw someone fleeing from the high school.

They pursued and apprehended a 14-year-old youngster.

Subsequent investigation led to the apprehension of three 15-year-olds and a 16-year-old.

The five were arraigned Monday in juvenile court and their cases continued until Feb. 25.

They were charged with breaking and entering a building in the night time with intent to commit a misdemeanor and willful destruction of school property.

Police Chief Lucarelli stated that there was damage in several rooms in the school.

He went on to note that a refrigerator had been turned over, typewriters damaged, glass broken in the chemistry lab and the flag desecrated.

Meanwhile on Jan. 29, the police work of Sgt. Henry Bradley and Officers Robert White and Ronald Tocio led to the apprehension of a 19-year-old Arlington resident charged with receiving stolen property.

He received a three months sentence in the House of Correction, suspended for one year; he was placed on probation for one year.

Some of the stolen items were taken in a break in a Somerville apartment.

On Feb. 1, as the result of a complaint received at the police station four Arlington youths, 16 and 17 years of age were picked up and charged with drunkenness and disturbance of the peace.

On the same day Police Officer Lawrence Dennen arrested three youths who were subsequently charged with throwing glass in the street and illegal possession of alcoholic beverages.

Meanwhile, on Feb. 3, police questioned six Cambridge girls in connection with a hit and run auto accident on Palmer st.

Complaints will be sought in connection with violation of the automobile laws.

Wins "Outstanding" Award

Alfred A. Onanian, 53 Hibbert st., was presented an Outstanding Performance Rating (OPR) at a recent Civilian Awards Ceremony held at Hanscom Field, Bedford.

It is an Air Force policy to recognize and reward superior work performance of its employees, and the OPR is the highest honorary award a civilian may receive locally.

Mr. Onanian is assigned to the R&D Contracts Division of ESD's Procurement and Production Office.

He earned both his bachelor of science and master's degrees in business administration at Boston University. He majored in accounting and business management.

A Little Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. James White of 11 Lawndale ave., Waltham, were pleased when the man from Boston Edison informed them that their house was the 10,000th electrically heated dwelling unit on Company lines. They were even more pleased when the Edison man said, "We would like to have a little ceremony to mark this important milestone."

The men in the Edison residential sales department thought it would be nice if they built a snowman on the lawn of the White house and took a picture of little Jimmy White and his Mom and Dad. This, the Edison men felt, would suggest how nice and comfy it was inside the house with all that wonderful flameless electric heat.

Everybody agreed it was a great idea. Everybody, that is, except the weatherman. He, as usual, failed to cooperate. As the day for the ceremony drew nearer, weather reports continued gloomy—at least in the viewpoint of the promotion-minded young Edison executive who had come up with the bright idea of building a snowman. It suddenly occurred to him that to build a snowman you need snow. There was no snow, not even one fluffy flake.

His idea began to look less and less brilliant, especially since young Jimmy White had gotten wind of it and was all excited about the prospect of having somebody make a snowman on his lawn. He displayed the customary exuberance of three-year-olds and their penchant for making grown-ups toe the mark where a promise is concerned. Every parent knows that sinking feeling of making a casual offer to "do something" and when circumstances intervened, having to face that unanswerable accusation from an uplifted tiny finger. "... but you promised!"

The Edison men had promised. And—in spite of Don Kent, the United States Weather Bureau and a New England January that was more like June, Jimmy got his snowman. He got it because some of the men at Edison, with little Jimmies of their own, just couldn't muster the courage to face that sobbing indictment. "... but you promised!"

So, the Edison men toiled and on the day set for the ceremony they came up with a custom-built, one-of-a-kind snowman. It looked just like the real thing, but it had one unique feature. It wouldn't melt.

The ceremony over, the Whites trooped back into the house to join their other child, 11-month-old Caroline. Jimmy lingered outside to admire his new friend. The Edison men drove off, making plans for the next electric heat milestone. The young man who had thought up the snowman bit refused to commit himself on what clever gimmick he would have to mark the 20,000th home that installs electric heat. When pressed, all he would say was, "Don't bug me—I've got kids of my own."

Yes, but do they have a snowman like Jimmy White's?

AT CONFERENCE

Mrs. Paul Lanigan of Arlington, recently appointed Legislative Chairman of the Mystic Valley Mental Health Association, was among six representatives of the MVMHA at the Leadership Conference sponsored by the Massachusetts Association for Mental Health, Jan. 24-25, at the Lexington-Sheraton Motor Inn.

Together with volunteer leaders and staff of the Massachusetts Association for Mental Health and its 24 Chapters, Mrs. Lanigan shared a two-day look at developments currently underway in the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health's plan to provide comprehensive mental health services to the state, and the role that the mental health association has and will have during this period of, hopefully, major growth in services.

Sea Lion For A Pet

How would you like a baby Sea Lion for a pet? Or how would you like to go on a scientific expedition to the Bering Sea in a small craft called Alpha Helix? Most of us haven't had that opportunity, but Dr. David Leith, a physiologist at the Harvard School of Public Health talked to the 6th graders at Peirce school and shared both experiences.

Dr. Leith went on an expedition to the Bering Sea primarily to study diving mammals (walrus, seal, otter, scallops). Each of the scientists had some area of study. Dr. Leith was concerned with the lungs and the way these mammals could adapt themselves for long stays in very deep water.

The classes were shown spectacular movies showing the Aleutians, volcanic islands with fantastic shapes, some smoking, others snow wreathed. He showed killer whales, otters, seals cavorting in the freezing waters and huge harem of walrus lolling about the ice floes with their pups.

Probably of greater interest to the 6th graders was Bah, the Stellar Sea Lion which Dr. Leith captured, mothered and took home. This involved, bottle feeding. Sea Lion milk is very fatty so to simulate it Dr. Leith mixed a pound of margarine, vitamins, skimmed milk, 4 eggs—shook it well and placed it in a half gallon plastic bottle which Bah would consume in four minutes. Apparently it was the right mixture for the Sea Lion thrived. She lived in Leith's garage and garden for some months—replacing alarm clocks for the whole neighborhood awoke to her barks at five A.M. She swam in neighborhood pools, enjoyed expeditions to the beach, oddly enough enjoying the warmer lake and Cape Cod waters to the Maine beaches. Eventually Bah was given to the Boston Zoo, and later the New York Zoo. This was the first Stellar Sea Lion ever raised in a domestic environment.

Dr. Leith very generously answered the many enthusiastic questions asked by the classes. Who knows, with so much stimulation, perhaps one of these children will select such a career.

Coleman Paces ACHS; Arlington High Romps

Arlington Catholic's leading scorer, John Coleman, had the "hat trick" as Coach Carney's Catholic Tourney Class B champs beat Cathedral 7-2 on Sunday.

Larry Babine had the first of the four goals scored by the winners in the first period with Mike Curry getting an assist.

Curry and Mike McGlynn both had assists on John Coleman's first goal midway in the first period.

On the third goal of the period, Mike Curry had his third assist as he passed to Chuck Brooks. Curry had taken a pass from McGlynn on the play. Coleman's second score, the fourth goal of the period, came late in the period with Dennis Villandry getting an assist.

Villandry had his second assist on J. Coleman's third goal in the middle period. With the score 5-0, Mark Minton put Cathedral on the board to make it 5-1.

Minton had the Cathedral tally in the final period as ACHS scored twice. The Coleman brothers had the assists on Villandry's tally and Morgan had the assist on Malloy's goal.

The win leaves Arlington Catholic in second place, three points behind Coach Jack Cusack's Xavier team. The two teams meet this Sunday.

Coach Carney will be without the services of John "Doc" Ready who was injured in the Catholic tournament and is out for the season, while Coach Cusack will be without Kevin Connors.

The Concord team holds a 6-3 win over the locals.

AHS Hoopsters In 65-52 Victory

The Arlington High basketball team defeated Newton South 65-52 Friday night at the local gym, as four of Coach Hill's boys were in double figures.

Scoring early and often in the opening period, Arlington opened up a ten point lead in the first period and were never headed. The score at the end of the opening period was Arlington 18, Newton South 10.

The Red and Gray team increased its lead to 13 points in the second period and were ahead at half-time 34-21. It looked as if the local basketball team was going to run up a big score when they scored 19 points early in the third period and had a 20 point spread. The Newton team had their most points of any periods as they dropped in 19 points in the final period.

Capt. Dave O'Leary was the game's top scorer with 18; Barry Yunis was next with 13; Cuccio and Carvello had 10. The other points were scored by Nigro, 3; Lewko, 2; and Kostopoulos, 9.

Kevin Carr, a sophomore, had the first Arlington tally at 4:01 of the first period, with assists for Tony Lyons and Mark Noonan. Bernie Quinlan made it 2-0 at 5:51. John Lyons and Tom Deveau had assists. Wayne Hale and "Rocky" Hoar had the assists on Mike Zona's goal at the 7:28 mark.

With Arlington leading 3-0 in the second period, Steve Hoar scored at 3:21. Hale and Zona had the assists. The final Arlington goal and the second for "Kev" Carr came at 8:21 with Tony Lyons and Ed Burns, Jr. assisting, making the score 5-0.

Pee Wee Teams Deadlocked

Last Saturday, a group of All Stars from the Park and Recreation Department's Pee Wee Hockey Program traveled to McHugh Forum, at Boston College to play boys from the Watertown Recreation Department. The game was well played and ended in a 1-1 tie.

Coaches Bob Lavery, Bob Byrne and Dick Shea, took a group of 18 skaters and two goalies to engage the boys from Watertown. The game found Watertown scoring the initial goal only to have Jackie Riley, assisted by Mike Lavery, tie the score for Arlington.

Both teams skated fast and furiously up and down the ice, but neither team could break the deadlock. Outstanding players for Arlington were Mike Villandry, Mark Tanner and Ed Ofria with Peter Scopa and Dan Casey playing well in goal.

At Concert

The Arlington Academy of Music presented its monthly informal recital Jan. 31 and many instrumentalists were featured.

The students from Arlington who participated were: Stephanie Chais, Manteuf Smith, Joel Gramolini, Steven Maggio, Robin Rawston, Denise Pelligrino, Marion Perkins, Peter Szerlag, Cheryl Breen, Cindy Kosak, Elizabeth Curry, Cynthia Brandt and Gary Chin.

SCHOOL and SPORTS

by Hal O'Brien

Coach John Carney has offered to have his Catholic Tourney Class "B" champs play Class "A" winner Malden Catholic in a Jimmy Fund benefit game if a suitable rink and date can be found. The Advocate Sports Department would sponsor the event.

Charlie Lyons, who was Jack Maguire's catcher for the Legion baseball team last summer, is the Captain and leading scorer for the St. Mary's of Winchester C.Y.O. hockey club. Phil Sands and Bob Herlihy of Arlington are on the same team.

Bob Havern, the Harvard freshman star, will be trying to get through the two All-Scholastic defensemen who were on the same Arlington High team with him when the U. of Mass. freshmen play the Harvard frosh at Watson Rink, Feb. 9. Glen Hale, the third local player on the U. of Mass. frosh team, is a forward.

If Co-Capt. Joe Bertagna of the hockey team makes up his mind to accept an early acceptance offer to attend Harvard, Coach Cooney Weiland is sure of an outstanding goalie. Joe came into his own in the State Tourney last year and has done a great job ever since.

Talked to Johnnie Allesandrini and he has fully recovered from his shoulder operation and was due to start skating with the Harvard J.V. hockey team this week.

John has lost a lot of time with the injury, otherwise he might be playing varsity hockey with the Crimson.

Coach Jack Cusack's Xavier Captain, Jay Connors, will enroll at Boston College where his coach was an Eagle stand-out in his college days.

President Gerry Bartholomew

One of the nicest young men in this town gets married on Washington's Birthday, when Jimmy Driscoll walks down the aisle. After the honeymoon, Jim leaves for Spring training and has high hopes of being on a big league roster. In this, his fifth year in pro baseball.

Working the goal lights at the Arena during the Catholic League season are Albie Spina and Joe Jordan. Rabb Hurd is on the lights Saturdays for the G.B.I. games.

Bill Bonnin, former Arlington Post 39 Commander and a member of the athletic committee, has lined up Wilbur Wood as the principal speaker for the Legion Athletic Awards Night, Feb. 15.

Newport st. resident Richie Bowman is the only local boy on this year's fine Boston College High hockey team. B.C.H. is currently leading the in-town hockey league, with Coach Tommy Apprille's So. Boston team leading the City League.

Jackie Cahill, son of the Arlington Fire Department officer, is centering the second line of the Matignon High hockey team.

The committee running the Lions Sports' Nite scheduled for March 1 is trying to land a Bruins' player for guest speaker.

Arlington's Jimmy Smith was the only Mass. boy to receive a football letter this year at Lehigh, according to a release from the Pennsylvania college.

Three of George Gill's teammates on last Fall's B. C. team have been drafted by Pro football teams. Barry Gallup, an end, went to the Pats; Joe Pryor, a defensive end, to Houston, and John Egan, the center, goes to Miami.

Catholic Hockey League fans should be in for a real fine game this Sunday afternoon when Arlington Catholic faces Xavier, a team that has a 6-3 win over them. Xavier is undefeated in league play.

After a couple of weeks' lay-off, the J.V. hockey team will be back playing scheduled games.

The Billerica Girls' Basketball Tournament is scheduled for Feb. 14, 15, 17 and 19, with the finals on Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22.

This year the Eastern Mass. Basketball Tournament starts at the Garden March 3, the same day the Hockey Tourney starts at the Boston Arena. Both Arlington and Arlington Catholic will have teams in the Hockey Tournament and neither will be represented at the Garden.

Now that the Patriots have picked Clive Rush for the head coach's job it remains to be seen if he can bring the Pats along with a "Rush".

Until the Pats produce a winner, which will take time, and in view of the present State tax situation, sports fans can forget about a domed stadium in Boston, unless private enterprise builds it.

Last Friday's weather and the reports of the Baseball Writers' Dinner makes one realize that Spring training gets underway for the big league players in a couple of weeks. Mark Driscoll is working out with the U. of Arizona baseball team, preparing for the 55 games the team plays during the regular season.

Keen Competition

Keen competition is the name of the game in the Pee Wee-Bantam Hockey Program, sponsored by the Arlington Park and Recreation Department, as Saturday's scores indicate. Of the four games played, three were decided by the margin of one goal.

The Canadiens kept their undefeated record intact as they sneaked by the hustling Rangers 2-1 on the strength of two goals by the combination of Peter Villandry and Neal Corbett.

Rangers out-skated and out-played the Canadiens, but were unable to score more than the single tally registered by Herlihy, assisted by Paul Tischera and Paul Lewis. Mick McGurl sparked the Rangers in their effort to upend the league-leading Canadiens. Ray Pierce and Ed

Ray Hooley and Tom Keating played well for the Maroons as Russ Donnelly and Mike Ivester skated well.

In Pee Wee play, the Maple Leafs sailed by the Black Hawks 3-0 to maintain their undefeated pace. John Macdonald put the Leafs on the scoreboard with his first goal of the season. Mark Tanner, strong defenseman, tallied the second goal, assisted by Mike Bennett. Bobby Benoit wrapped up the scoring with a long shot shortly before the game's end. Jackie Riley paced the Leafs both on offense and defense. Dave Aiken, Mike Villandry, and Keith Moran, paced the Hawks who tasted defeat for the first time.

The Bruins and Rockets battled for the entire game before Mark Ackerly scored with a minute to play to record the Rockets' second win of the season. The Bruins had numerous opportunities, but were not able to put the puck in the net. Dave Keating, Ed Ofria and Larry Marquis, played well for the Bruins. Rockets standouts were Tony Messuri, Gary Coleman and Paul Cusolito.

Boy Scout Movement Makes Determined Strides to Keep up with Times

The Boy Scout movement is moving with determined strides to keep up with the times and to serve more boys in the four Musket District communities of Arlington, Stoneham, Winchester and Woburn. What is happening in Scouting and progress already made will be apparent during several major events of Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 through 13.

Feb. 8, the public is invited to the Musket District "World of Scouting" show at the Woburn Armory where more than 30 units of Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers from the four communities will demonstrate Scouting in action. The show is open from noon to 4 p.m.

Feb. 9, boys and leaders of all faiths representing Scouting units of the four towns will conduct a Scout rededication religious service at the Stoneham Town Hall Auditorium. The public is invited to participate. All Scouts and their adult leaders will be in full uniform. Massed flags of units present will be displayed during the 3 p.m. service.

Also during Boy Scout Week, "Fireside Chats" will be held with volunteer Scouters in each of the towns to explore ways of improving Scouting's financial ability to expand and provide more effective programs serving more boys.

Nolan T. Jones of Winchester, Chairman of the Musket District Committee, observes: "Scouting in our communities is moving into an exciting era in which we are putting into action an ambitious and important program in tune with the times, with objectives that will enable our more than 1,100 volunteer leaders to deliver a far more valuable Scout experience than in the past and to make it available to many more boys than the 2,780 we are now serving."

2,780 in Scout Age
Chairman Jones continues, "Scouting has been concerned about attitudes for the past 60 years—attitudes toward one's self, one's neighbor, the community, the Nation and God, as well as toward property, authority and the Nation's resources. We know we must improve our efforts considerably, now. We are developing plans to strengthen those attitudes and to expand the Scouting experience to meet the growing and desperate needs of today's youth.

"This is a national effort of the Boy Scouts of America; it reaches into every community in the country. Our slogan reflects well the challenge, 'Today's Boypower for Tomorrow's Manpower.' Adults in Scouting are recognizing more than ever the substantial, important influences we can provide to help families and our community institutions prepare new generations of young men with the skills and confidence they will need before they become adult citizens. As in the past 60 years, our program is for all boys, now as many as want it."

Mr. Jones notes that sweeping changes already have been made in the Cub Scout program for boys 8 to 10 years old, with the result that more of them want to move into the Scout and Explorer programs for older boys. The new Cub Webelos program, especially, is putting the pinch on the need for more and large Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Posts.

Today there are 2,780 boys between the ages of 8 and 18 in the 62 Scout units of Arlington, Stoneham, Winchester and Woburn; 28 are Cub Packs, 31 Boy Scout Troops and three Explorer Posts. The Musket District goal for years just ahead is to provide three Boy Scout Troops for every two Cub Scout Packs, and to have 10 percent of total boy membership in Explorer Scouting for older boys. This program is well under way, headed by Chris Gallacher of Arlington, Chairman of Musket District Organization and Extension.

New Scout Movement
A number of new District Boy Scout Troops have been organized in recent months and the committee is proceeding with development of others. In Arlington, members of the Trinity Baptist Church have organized and are sponsoring the new Troop 302. Charles Nason, a veteran Scouter in the community, is Scoutmaster; William D. Vale, Institutional Representative; Francis E. Morgan, Committee Chairman.

St. Barbara's Church in Woburn is sponsoring the new Troop 500 with Arthur McCann as Scoutmaster, Ira D. Snow, Committee Chairman, and John J. Phalon, Jr., Institutional Representative.

Scout Troop 517 in Woburn was organized under sponsorship of the Greek Orthodox Church of Annunciation, Paul Apostolou of Winchester is Scoutmaster, Christie Varoutsos, Committee Chairman, and at the time of the charter, Rev. Evangelos Georgiadis was Institutional Representative.

The Winchester Lodge of Elks now sponsors the new Troop 508 in Winchester. Guy Mafera, Exalted Ruler, announced the following appointments: Royce A. Bailey, Institutional Representative; Archibald J. MacDonald, Jr., Committee Chairman; Francis A. Lawton, who has been active as Cubmaster of Pack 508, is serving as Scoutmaster, assisted by William Oravetz and Edward Jones.

With more organized units come greater need for more trained volunteer Scout leaders, den mothers and committeemen. Musket District has developed an outstanding leadership training program that is preparing leaders now for the future. Training is headed by Thomas Marsh of Stoneham, who comments: "No Scouting experience is necessary for an adult to pitch in and help with his son's unit. But the time is coming when formal training

Scouts, Explorers To Be Honored

Thirty-eight Scouts and Explorers of the Minuteman Council, Boy Scouts of America, who earned the coveted Eagle Award, the highest achievement for a boy in the Scouting program, will be honored at an Eagle Recognition Dinner on Feb. 13, to be held at the Kernwood Restaurant in Lynnfield according to Walter L. Milne, Council Advancement Chairman from Arlington.

Only one Scout in a hundred earns the Eagle Award whose requirements are designed to stimulate a young man to meet numerous adults, take part in church, community and school projects, demonstrate leadership and master skills which are applicable to the world of today's youth.

Each Scout participating in the Recognition Dinner is being sponsored either by the Council's Executive Board, Scout Leader or Key Community representatives who will discuss with the young man his vocational interests and present him with opportunities to investigate his interest.

Mr. H. Andrew Brodecki of Reading will serve as Chairman of the Dinner assisted by is going to be very important for the leaders of a Pack, Troop or Post. They have important responsibilities in carrying out the Scout program for the boys. When a leader is prepared to do it well, everyone associated with the unit benefits."

BOY SCOUT WEEK FEB. 7-13

ARLINGTON SCOUTING

1500 Arlington boys enjoyed the Scouting programs of Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting, and Exploring during 1968 through the volunteer leadership, effort, interest and support of 400 Arlington men and women, who served as Cubmasters, Scoutmasters, Explorer Advisors and assistants, Den Mothers, and unit committee members of the 9 Cub Scout Packs, 11 Boy Scout Troops, and 1 Sea Explorer Ship.

The program was sponsored by 18 local institutions and organizations whose needs for training, program helps, outdoor facilities and administrative and other services were met through the activities of many more volunteers and the executive and office staff of the Musket District Committee and Commissioner Staff of the Minuteman Council, Boy Scouts of America.

These hard workers planned, arranged, and conducted training courses, leaders' roundtables, provided the facilities and supervision of two long-term and two overnight camping areas, guided the organization of, and reorganization of units, and in many other ways offered institutions, their units, and their leaders the resources of information, experience, and personal assistance to aid them to be successful in their use of the Scouting programs for their boys.
